PIONEER 71

Hold fast to dreams
For if dreams die
Life is a broken-winged bird
That cannot fly.

Hold fast to dreams
For when dreams go
Life is a barren field
Frozen with snow.

PIONEER – 1971

East Haven High School
East Haven, Connecticut

A shining isle in a stormy sea.
We seek it ever with smiles and sighs.
To-day is sad. In the bland To-be.
Serene and lovely To-morrow lies.

To begin our final activities as students of East Haven High School, our Senior Prom was held on June 4, 1971, at the Park Plaza Hotel. After dinner we danced to the music of the Pat Dorn Orchestra from 7:30 to 12:00. The After Prom was held in the cafeteria from 1 to 4.

The Awards Assembly was held during the last class week of June; all deserving seniors were lauded for outstanding achievements in the fields of scholarship and athletics.

The next activity on our busy agenda was the Senior Assembly, which gave us the chance to express our opinions freely and to mock ourselves, as well as the underclassmen and faculty.

Our final day as students at EHHS was here and our graduation also. As we marched together as a class for the last time, warm memories filled our minds, as well as curiosity as to what our futures would bring. Clutching our diplomas, we said good-bye to East Haven High and to many of our classmates for the last time. Thus ended our days in high school; but through all the fun and excitement, the thoughts of tomorrow filled us with wonder.

Heaven did a recompense as largely sent:
He gave to Misery (all he had) a tear,
